The guidance notes, lesson plans and resource materials found in this section are provided for the purposes of aiding teachers in their delivery of Holocaust education. They are not intended as a substitute for clear and coherent curriculum planning. Rather the lesson plans found in this section all assume a basic level of historical knowledge and chronological understanding, and are provided as exemplars of how certain topics and issues could be approached using the WW2history.com website as a resource. Teachers who require assistance in developing a broader scheme of work for teaching about the Holocaust are encouraged to contact the Holocaust Educational Trust at info@het.org.uk.
